

Why I Love Brookfield Congregational Church

- I love that my whole family, including my children, love this church.
- I love that it is easy to attend church here. The program is easy to follow along with and you don't need to have certain things memorized.
- I love that it is a small church and it is easier to meet people.
- I love that we have pastors who are allowed to marry and seem more relatable than the priests I have dealt with in the past
- I love that BCC has an old fashioned feel to it. It is tucked back among the trees and is beautiful yet not overdone.
- I love the windows in our church that allow us to see the seasons going on around us outside as we sit and give thanks to our God.
- I love how friendly the members are. People are continually walking up and introducing themselves to new members and guests.
- I love the coffee hour and that most members choose to stay late after church and visit for a while.
- I love that we have greeters who welcome us as we walk through the door.
- I love the announcements, prayer requests and celebrations. It makes us all feel like we are a part of the community of the church.
- I love that we sometimes sing "Happy Birthday" to members celebrating their special day.
- I love our choir and how they change things up each week. I think they are so good at what they do!
- I love Jackie as the choir director. She is so talented, friendly and brings a light to all that she does.
- I love that BCC allowed my children to participate in all activities even though we were not members yet.
- I love the children's message.
- I love our baptisms and how the baby is carried by the pastor down the aisle for all to see and celebrate his/her new life.
- I love how the whole church really seems to embrace and enjoy the children who attend here.
- I love the fun activities BCC comes up with for the members and their children.
- I love that the kids go to Sunday School during part of the service so my husband and I can relax and really take in all that the service is offering us.
- I love that Angela Graf and Becca Hughes are in charge of the Sunday School program because I completely trust their abilities.
- I love that the kids learn their Bible stories and don't just sit around memorizing the rules of the church.
- I love this church because my husband still wants to go when I am unable to attend. This is the first time in our married life that he has felt this way about a church.
- I love this church because on most Sunday's I am inspired by the message given by the pastor.

- I love that we all wear nametags. This really helps people like me to remember and learn member's names.
- I love that we do so many charitable donations.
- I love that one day my children may get the opportunity to go on a mission trip with their friends from church.
- I love that this church helps to take care of the hungry.
- I love the service time for our church. 9:00 is too early and 11:00 is too late. 10:00 is a perfect time.
- I love that BCC is allowing me to be the Christian I have always wanted to be. It inspires me to do better and seek more.
- I love this church because when you walk in it feels like being at home.
